Your pension is a significant financial asset. Talk to a financial adviser to determine the retirement date that is best for you and your situation.

This Member's Benefit Statement was prepared for the Teachers' Pension Plan by BC Pension Corporation. Your statement is based on the information in our records. It is a snapshot of your account and an estimate of your potential future pension. We will verify the estimates when you retire. If there is a discrepancy between this statement and the final benefit entitlement, the final benefit entitlement takes precedence over the calculations prepared for this statement. Any change to your records will show up on next year's statement.

These are estimates only. Use the personalized pension estimator at myaccount.pensionsbc.ca to create and save your own estimates with different retirement dates. If you stopped working on Dec 31, 2024, and left your pension benefit in the plan:

For the period January 1, 2024 to December 31, 2024

1. Your personal information

Please check all the information on this statement carefully. If you find an error, sign in to My Account on the Teachers' Pension Plan website at tpp.pensionsbc.ca to update your personal information.

2. Your beneficiary

Your beneficiary is someone who receives survivor benefits from your plan if you die before you retire. On your death, we will pay survivor benefits to your eligible spouse or, if you do not have a spouse, to your named beneficiary(ies) or estate.

- If you have a spouse, your spouse is automatically your beneficiary (unless they signed a Form 4 Spouse's Waiver of Beneficiary Right to Benefits in a Pension Plan, Locked-in Retirement Account, Life Income Fund or Annuity Before Pension or Annuity Payments Start). You may also name one or more alternate beneficiaries for your spouse.
- If you do not have a spouse (or your spouse has waived their beneficiary rights), you may name one or more people or organizations (e.g., society, charity, trust or corporation) as your beneficiary, including alternates.
- If you do not have a spouse at the time of your death (or your spouse has waived their beneficiary rights), and you have not nominated a beneficiary in My Account, your estate will automatically become your beneficiary.

If your estate is listed as your beneficiary and you do not have a spouse, you can name one or more beneficiaries and alternates. Sign in to My Account to do this. If your estate is listed as your beneficiary and you do have a spouse, you can sign in to My Account and update your spousal information.

3. Your estimated monthly pension benefit options

The estimates shown are gross monthly amounts. To obtain your annual pension amount, multiply the monthly amount by 12.

The plan offers a lifetime pension based on a formula that uses the average of your five highest years of pensionable salary and your years of pensionable service at retirement. For more information, visit the plan website.

Your pension estimates are based on a single life option guaranteed for 10 years. A single life option is a pension payable for your lifetime. However, if you die before the guarantee period has expired, your beneficiary will receive the pension until the guarantee period (e.g., 10 years) ends. This is just one of the single life pension options available to you.

If we have your spouse's date of birth, your pension estimates are also based on a 100 per cent joint life option. A joint life option is a pension payable for as long as you live and as long as your spouse or former spouse lives. This option provides for 100 per cent of your pension to be paid to your survivor. This is just one of the joint life pension options available.

If you have not contributed for 12 months in the statement year (or 10 months for members that work a 10-month work year), your pension estimate amounts may be overstated.

For more information, visit the plan website. Please use the personalized pension estimator in My Account.

4. Your pensionable salary and service

Pensionable salary refers to the portion of your salary used to determine your contributions to the plan. Overtime pay and most lump-sum payments are not included, so your pensionable salary may not be the same as the employment income shown on your T4 slip.

Pensionable service is your actual working time as a member of the plan. Pensionable service is capped at a maximum of 35 years for service earned before January 1, 2018. For service earned on or after January 1, 2018, there is no maximum. If you are a teacher teaching on call (TTOC), your pensionable service is based on the total days you are paid compared to the number of days available to TTOCs in the school year (a number school districts define annually). If you are not a TTOC, your pensionable service is based on the total pensionable salary you earned compared to your full-time equivalent pensionable salary. Pensionable service is used to determine your pension amount.

Contributory service is the number of months you and your employer made contributions to the plan. You earn one month of contributory service for each month in which you and/or your employer make contributions to the plan. If you retire early, contributory service is one of the factors used to determine whether your pension will be reduced, and by how much.

If you think there is an error with your service in this year or past years, please speak to your employer.

5. Your contributions

You contribute to the plan through automatic deductions from your pensionable salary. Your employer also contributes.

How can I increase my pension?

You may be able to increase your pension by buying back service for a leave of absence or for a period when you were not permitted to contribute to the plan.

Each leave of absence has a five-year deadline. You have five years from the end of each leave to apply to buy your service, and you must apply within 30 days of ending employment with all plan employers. For leaves under the Employment Standards Act, you can also make continuous contributions throughout the leave.

In addition, if you have a break in your plan membership for a period when you were at home raising your child under the age of seven, up to five years of that period could be included in your contributory service. An increase in contributory service could allow you to retire earlier or avoid a reduced pension. There is no cost for you to increase your contributory service in this way.

For details on how buying service can potentially increase your future pension, visit the plan website. Sign in to My Account and use the purchase cost estimator to get an estimate of the cost.

Transferring Service

If you have service in another pension plan, you may be eligible to transfer your service under a reciprocal transfer agreement. Deadlines may apply. For more information, visit the plan website. Until the service has been transferred, it will not appear on this statement.

Helpful tips

Bridge benefit

If you retire before age 65, your pension may include a temporary monthly payment called a bridge benefit. The bridge benefit is earned on service accrued before January 1, 2018, and is payable until age 65 or death, whichever occurs first. There is no bridge benefit on service accrued on or after January 1, 2018. Although your lifetime pension may continue to your beneficiary(ies) after your death, the bridge benefit will not.

Cost-of-living adjustments

Your pension may be adjusted to reflect an increase in the annual cost of living. Cost-of-living adjustments are not guaranteed; they depend on the availability of funds in the inflation adjustment account.

Highest average salary

When you retire, your pension benefits are based on a formula that uses the average of your five highest years of pensionable salary. To calculate this average, the plan uses the best five years of full-time equivalent earnings from your entire time with the plan.

Reduced/unreduced pension

On your statement, we estimate the earliest date you could retire with either a reduced or unreduced pension. If you decide to retire before you are eligible for an unreduced pension, your pension, including the bridge benefit (if applicable), will be reduced.

You may be eligible for an unreduced pension before you reach normal retirement age. You are responsible for choosing the date your pension will start and you must apply to start your pension. If you do not apply to start your unreduced pension when you are eligible, you will not be entitled to have your pension backdated to a previous date.

For service earned before January 1, 2018:

Your monthly pension will be reduced if you apply to start your pension a) before age 60, but your age plus contributory service does not total 90 or more, or b) at ages 60 to 64 and you have less than two years' contributory service. There is no reduction if your age plus contributory service totals 90 or more.

For service earned on or after January 1, 2018:

Your pension will be reduced if you apply to start your pension a) before age 61 and you have less than 35 years' contributory service, or b) at ages 61 to 64 and you have less than two years' contributory service. If you have 35 or more years of contributory service, there is no reduction.

To see how different retirement ages may affect your pension, use the personalized pension estimator in My Account.

Thinking about retiring early?

If you're thinking about retiring, here are some key considerations:

- You will receive a reduced pension if you do not meet the minimum age and service criteria for an unreduced pension.
- You can buy a temporary annuity to supplement your early retirement income until you turn 65 or die, whichever happens first. Buying a temporary annuity will reduce your lifetime pension income after age 65 to pay for its cost.
- You may be able to improve your pension by transferring service from another pension plan, or buying back service from a time you were on an approved leave of absence.

If you have a current or former spouse

Pensions are considered family property. If you have a former spouse who has a right to a share of your pension, the service earned and pension benefits shown on your Member's Benefit Statement include your former spouse's share. This means that your actual pension benefits are less than what is shown on the statement.

For the purposes of the Pension Benefits Standards Act, people are spouses on any date on which one of the following applies:

- (a) they
  - (i) are married to each other, and
  - (ii) have not been living separate and apart from each other for a continuous period longer than two years;
- (b) they have been living with each other in a marriage-like relationship for a period of at least two years immediately preceding the date.

Note: If spouses live apart due to work commitments or as a result of illness, it is not considered "living separate and apart" for pension purposes.

If your spousal status changes, please notify the plan.

Vested

If you are vested, it means you are entitled to a pension. The funds must be used to provide a lifetime pension benefit.
